WASHINGTON.

The Senate Discusses the Labor Arbitration Bill.

CONFIRMATION OF ROSECRANS

The Subsidy Amendment to the Postoffice Bill Before the House—Senator Stanford on the Labor Troubles—Etc.

SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Hale presented a memorial of the United States & Brazil steamship company, the Pacific Mail steamship company, the New York & Cuba mail steamship company, the Red D line of steamships and the New York & Havana and the Mexican Mail steamship companies. In presenting the memorial Hale remarked that he denied specifically what had been stated in certain newspapers, namely, that an attempt had been made to improperly influence congress in favor of what is called subsidies. Hale wished to say in connection with the recent action of the [illegible] in regard to foreign mails that if this great effort to revive American commerce ever prevailed in congress it would not be done by the influence of lobby. It could only come about because the American people were growing more and more interested in the subject, and sooner or later congress would have to respond to the popular demand.

Hoar presented a petition from the New England Methodist Episcopal conference, urging the United States to enforce the terms of the Chinese treaty [illegible] to protect the lives and property of Chinese subjects in the United States; referred.

On motion of Dolph, the senate passed the bill extending the limits of Portland, Oregon, so as to include the east bank of the Willamette river opposite the city, [illegible] to a point opposite the lower end of Swan island.

A motion to proceed with consideration of the Statehood and bridge was lost, 22 to [illegible]. The bill retains its place on the calendar.

THE ARBITRATION BILL

At [illegible] o'clock the pension bill was placed before the senate but was temporarily laid aside to permit Coke to address the senate on the house labor arbitration bill. Coke did not favor the establishment of a permanent board of commissioners, such as had been recommended by the president's message. Such board, he believed, would inevitably become a tribunal favorable to the corporations, however little it might be intended that it should so become. The plan of a voluntary arbitration provided by the house bill he contended was much better. Arbitrators under the bill would be chosen in each case by parties immediately interested and would be chosen because of special knowledge of the subject involved in dispute. The commissioners being voluntarily chosen by the parties concerned, their decisions would be more acceptable to the parties involved than that of any permanent board. As to the responsibility of railway companies for the operation of their roads, Coke said they should be compelled to keep their roads in operation, strike or no strike, and on the other hand any one who interfered with that operation should be treated with the utmost severity. Public interest was the first consideration. Coke recognized the absolute necessity of restraining the railroads. No one, he said, could read the history of railroad development without feeling profound indignation and disgust that a system which, like that of railroads, had become so indispensable a necessity to civilization, should be an instrumentality in the hands of a few individuals for systematic robbery of the people. It was to pay dividends on watered stock that wages on railroads were squeezed down. The evil would never correct itself. State governments and the United States government, while unitin[illegible] to protect railroad property as they should protect railroad property and the interests of the public from assault or damage, should also unite to crush out the practice which led to labor difficulties that had become so serious a feature of the railroad problem.

LOGAN'S VIEWS

Logan, without committing himself to the support or otherwise of the house bill, would at the proper time, submit a substitute for it. The house bill provided arbitration, but when, after trouble had arisen and after arbitration should be appealed to and a decision rendered, there was no means of putting the decision into effect. He would propose that a commission, to be called the commission of arbitration, should be selected by the president; that men should be selected, part of them for their knowledge of law and part for their knowledge of the laboring interests of the country, and from among those interests, the commissioners to be five in number, and to have power to examine witnesses, etc. He would provide that when a decision is made, it should be filed in the United States district court, placed on record there, and become a decree of the court, which would secure a method for information and for a decision. Under the house bill that could not be done. He would also make it the duty of the commissioners to examine all questions of controversy arising between corporations and their employes and make a report to congress. He would erect the bureau of labor into the department of labor and require the commissioner of labor to communicate with all corporations, to ascertain particulars as to the number, character and compensation of employes, prices of food, rent, etc., and to submit comparative statements so far as practicable of similar particulars relating to labor in Europe, etc.

The pension bill was then laid before the senate. The senate went into executive session and when the doors reopened adjourned.

HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Harris, of Georgia, from the committee on ways and means, reported a bill amending section 3387 revised statutes, so as to reduce the penal sum of bonds of cigar manufacture to $250, with an additional $50 for each person proposed to be employed by them in making cigars; committee of the whole.

Sadler, of Alabama, from the committee on territories, reported adversely the bill to regulate the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the territories; laid on the table.

Hatch, of Missouri, from the committee on agriculture, reported a bill authorizing the exhibition of California silk in the capitol; house calendar.

Blount of Georgia, from the committee on post offices and post roads, reported back the postoffice appropriation bill, with senate amendments, and it having been referred to the committee of the whole, the house went into committee for the purpose of considering the amendments. Blount addressed his remarks to that clause known as "the subsidy amendment," and made argument in opposition to it. An appropriation of $800,000, he contended, would not secure any advantages in the way of obtaining additional mail trips, but would have a contrary effect. Under this clause the postmaster general would be required to contract, if he contracted at all, for not less nor more than five years, and this would act as an absolute inhibition upon any other company than the one holding a contract from attempting to traverse the same line; an increase in the number of mail days would be stopped, and while the contract was in force, any increase of the foreign postal service would be prevented. He quoted statistics to show the difference in pay which steamship companies received under the present law for carrying mails from that which they would receive if the proposed legislation were enacted, and as an instance of the evils which he maintained would follow such enactment, stated that mails carried by the Oriental and Occidental lines at a cost of $4500, would have to be carried by the Pacific Mail at a cost of $109,620. He denied the correctness of the declaration that the decline of American commerce was due to the fact that the United States refused to pay subsidies to its steamship companies, and asserted that the decline was attributable to the narrow minded policy which forbid American citizens from purchasing ships abroad.

Guenther, of Wisconsin, said that the appropriation did not rise to the dignity of a subsidy. It was neither fish, flesh nor fowl. It was a gift, pure and simple. It was charity to the Pacific Mail steamship company, a corporation which congress should not touch with a ten foot pole.

Pending further discussion, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

NAVAL VACANCIES

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Commodore Mayo failed to pass examination for promotion as rear admiral and the president to-day granted his request to be placed on the retired list of the navy with the rank of commodore, under the forty year service provision. There are now two vacancies in the grade of rear admiral, for which Commodore Jouett, acting rear admiral, and Commodore Russell are eligible in the order named.

THE MEXICAN PENSION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The senate committee on pensions voted to-day to postpone indefinitely the house Mexican pension bill, and to report as a substitute substantially the Mexican pension bill passed by the senate last session. The committee is opposed to a service pension and insists upon making dependence and disability necessary qualifications for pensions.

THE PRESIDENT ON DECORATION DAY

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The president will leave Washington the 30th inst. for Brooklyn, where he will review a decoration day parade the following morning and will review a parade in New York city in the afternoon. If possible, he will return to Washington Tuesday morning.

SENATOR STANFORD ON THE LABOR TROUBLES

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Senator Stanford received a dispatch announcing the arrest of five socialists in San Francisco, who had endeavored to incite riot, their object being to loot the residences of prominent capitalists, among them those of Messrs. Stanford, Crocker and Flood, on Nob hill. "I should hate to have a mob destroy my house," said Senator Stanford to your correspondent, "because it is very nicely furnished, and I take a great deal of pride in it. I sometimes think," continued the senator, "that the rich men of the country are responsible in great part for the present unrest and dissatisfaction that exists among the laboring classes. Capitalists do not seem to take the interest in their employes that they should, and the laboring men, feeling this, are seduced by reckless and desperate socialists into committing acts of violence. This of course makes the capitalist hesitate to invest his money in new enterprises, and laboring men suffer from lack of employment. At heart the men are all right, but the ignorant portion are led astray by idle and worthless men whose whole aim in life seems to be to foment discord."

CAPT. HATFIELD'S FIGHT WITH APACHES

WASHINGTON, May 18.—An official telegram was received at the war department this morning, through the Presidio of San Francisco, from Gen. Miles, dated Nogales, A. T., May 17, giving an account of Capt. Hatfield's fight with Apaches.

CABINET MEETING

WASHINGTON, May 18.—One of the topics of consideration at the cabinet meeting to-day was the seizure of American fishing vessels by the Canadian authorities for alleged violation of the fishery laws.

THE TELEPHONE INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, May 18.—In the telephone investigation to-day Mr. Van Benthuysen asked to have witnesses examined for the purpose of impeaching former testimony, but the request was denied.

WHAT THE WOMEN PROPOSE TO DO

PORTLAND, May 1[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

[illegible] from the Sunday's OREGONIAN headed "Women at the Polls," also to one on the same subject in Monday's issue, [illegible] that the writer is entirely mistaken as to the facts in the case.

The Portland union [illegible] has taken no such action as that [illegible]. A gentleman from the East lately [illegible] and recommended such methods [illegible] and several other men have urged us to [illegible], but we have not seen fit to do so.

What we [illegible] do, though no action has been taken [illegible], is to [illegible] a committee whose years and standing will command respect, and whose business it shall be, not to buy votes, even by cent[illegible] or [illegible], but to strive to influence men, by earnest appeals to their better natures, to aid for the protection of our homes by voting for men who will give us a [illegible] effective local option law. Therefore [illegible] picture a [illegible] mob of wild-eyed women, forgetting [illegible] and [illegible] rushing frantically about among the [illegible] at the polls hysterically [illegible] with men to vote as we [illegible] tenderly decorating them with floral offerings, and insidiously begging them to [illegible] their [illegible] birthright, their [illegible] for a mess of lemonade.

Believe me, these beings are solely creatures of the imagination, but why [illegible] a thing which is [illegible] when done by men but [illegible] if done by women? Does [illegible] whether a deed is wicked or not? [illegible] Spare us this [illegible].

As to the [illegible] of [illegible] sisters [illegible] candidates [illegible] of every political party in every canvass that was ever [illegible].

But the influence must not be an improper one. It must not lower [illegible]. It must appeal to the better, not the worse side of human nature. It must sway the intellect and the heart, not stir the passions. In brief it must do good and not evil, and it must never do evil that good may come.

Such an influence the members of the W. C. T. U. here, as well as everywhere else, strive to exert, even though they may not hope to accomplish great things in the near future. They intend, quietly and modestly, but very earnestly, to throw all their influence—and every person has some influence—in favor of the election of those men whom they believe to be [illegible] to secure the right and brave enough to do it.

Many ladies [illegible] the prohibition ticket. Others [illegible] the [illegible] ticket, but all, whether democrats or republicans, will work and vote only for those of either party who are willing to pledge themselves to work for local option. This is what the members of the W. C. T. U. are working for. These are the men they hope to see elected, for whom every man should vote who wishes to be on the side of right, of purity and of truth.

Press Supt. of Portland W. C. T. U.

ABOUT RIVER BUSINESS

NEW ERA, Or., May 17, 1886.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I see by your paper that there has been a new decision on the public levee matter which will probably evolve something. But there is a point here that arises in my mind. Should the city authorities grant the [illegible] company the privilege of building a wharf on it, would they not still charge for landing against their wharf, and charge such figures that it would be far from public property? Would it not be best for the city to build the wharf and then serve everybody alike? If the city wants our produce, the hand of monopoly must not be felt too heavy or it may fail to go. What cost on the lower river but 25 cents we pay $1 for on the upper Willamette. Of course the locks are in the way, but they need not make that much difference. Down the Columbia small boats can run, and, run as they are, mostly by their owners, they have to vie with one another in their accommodating the people or they would get no trade. But we are at the mercy of a company that are running for their own convenience without one thought whether the needs of the people are met or not. And another thing, they are run entirely by hired men, who too often prefer to have an easy time rather than do their duty. The company are running boats that are too large, that cost more to keep them going than the trade requires, particularly at this time of year. A small boat of not more than fifty tons, but with good action, that would go down early so that a person could have time to do his trading and not start up in the morning until after business hours, could find a good paying business if it did not try to divide too near even with the farmer. Yours, THOMAS BUCKMAN

THE TOUTLE RIVER MINES.

TOUTLE RIVER VALLEY, W. T., May 1[illegible]

The new gold mines of which mention was made in the DAILY OREGONIAN of December 28, 1885, as being due east of Toledo, are in Cowlitz county, between the north and south forks of the Toutle river and almost due east of the Toutle postoffice. The mines are on unsurveyed land about six miles east of section No. [illegible] in township No. 10 north, range 1 east of the Willamette meridian. Parties desirous of visiting the mines should come by the steamer Toledo to Castle Rock or on the Northern Pacific railroad to Silver Lake station. From these points a plain wagon road extends to within six miles of the mines. The last six miles is a pack trail.

When the roads are dry it would be easy to go from Castle Rock or Silver Lake station to the mines in one day, but when the roads are bad people generally stop at Toutle postoffice over night. I write this for the benefit of those wishing to visit the mines, as many persons have got lost and wandered about in the woods several days before reaching Toutle postoffice. Toutle is not a town, but has one general supply store and postoffice. The Toutle river settlement extends to within six miles of the mines, so vegetables are also easily procured. There are extensive tracts of good agricultural lands near the mines not yet taken. Most of the miners do not seem discouraged, and as gold has been found in many places there seems room for all. The gold the miners brought here was from the size of the finest gunpowder to very small beans. Prospecting has now commenced in good earnest, and I am sure we wish them all success. N. B. GARDNER.

HOW TO OBTAIN YOUNG CARP

McCOY, May 1[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Can you inform a subscriber through THE OREGONIAN if a fish car with carp will visit Portland this summer. Being desirous of obtaining some carp with which to stock a fine lake on my farm, I take the liberty to ask the information from you as the easiest way of getting the information. E. BAILEY

[It is not likely that a car with carp will come out this year. You should mail a request to Hon. Spencer F. Baird, U. S. fish commissioner, Washington, D. C., giving location and extent of lake, then when the next car leaves for Portland, your order will be filled.]

A BRILLIANT SPEAKER

SALEM, May 17

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Allow one who heard him to urge every one to embrace the opportunity of listening to the prohibition candidate for congress, Prof. G. M. Miller. It was a delightful treat to hear him score the old parties when Mr. Butler divided time with him here, and in this season of political dullness and mediocrity a real good speech is a treat decidedly refreshing. Therefore, be sure and attend Prof. Miller's meeting. YSABEAL

DOMESTIC NEWS.

Brooks Admits that he Killed Preller Accidentally.

A SOMEWHAT DRAMATIC STORY.

Archbishop Gibbons Made a Cardinal—Indians on the Warpath in Northern Idaho—Troops en route to the Scene.

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—The Post-Dispatch prints a statement made by H. M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, now on trial for the murder of C. Arthur Preller, which will constitute his only defense, and which will be urged by his attorneys in the trial. In a word, he will confess to killing Preller by accident while acting as his physician, and that being excited and frightened, he concealed instead of making known the fact of death. He declares that he has always wanted to tell the facts and only refrained by the advice of his attorney. Following is Brooks's statement:

"Mr. Preller was suffering from a private disease for which I had previously prescribed, mixing the medicines myself from bottles in a [illegible] chest carried with me. [illegible] reached a stage where it was necessary for me to make certain investigations. I was obliged to use a catheter, and in using the catheter when the parts were inflamed, I had previously applied chloroform, in order to produce a condition of narcotism. I explained the process to Preller and told him that I should have to do it. He was not only willing but was very anxious for me to treat him in this manner."

Brooks then tells of the purchase of chloroform which was spoken of in the statement on Sunday afternoon, while he was washing his instruments preparatory to operations, and his going to [illegible]'s store and buying more, denying [illegible] the statement that he there showed evidences of hurry and [illegible]. [illegible] About 9:30 we began an operation. I administered chloroform in the usual way, holding a saturated cloth to the face. Mr. Preller passed through the first stage [illegible] several moments, I don't know exactly how long. Then he entered the second stage, and here the terrible result came. I discovered too late, that he was dying. Imagine my horror when this fact dawned upon me. I was wild with fright, but had presence of mind enough to cut the shirt and undershirt from the body and getting a wet towel, I kept him around the neck and shoulders for half an hour or more. I did not give up until I was [illegible] from exhaustion, and my efforts were not relaxed until he had been dead some time. All the clothes he had on at the time were his shirt and undershirt. He had stripped for the operation.

"What did I do when I saw that my friend was dead? What could I do? I didn't know what to do except [illegible] and I drank freely, drank everything I could get—wine, whisky, everything that seemed to [illegible]. The [illegible] that I threw on [illegible] the first that fell into my hands, and put the body into the trunk from which I had removed everything. What was done besides this I have no recollection of. [illegible] and consternation had [illegible] and I knew only that my feelings were those of the utmost terror. I remained in my room that night—the same room in which the remains were, and I was afraid to go to sleep. I did not sleep, and I was glad when morning came. What I did after leaving my room you know, for it has all been printed." He says that he supposed the post mortem examination when the body was found would disclose the nature of the operation and cause of death.

According to his own story, the cutting off of Preller's moustache, the inscription about the traitor found in the trunk, and all the other queer incidents connected with the tragedy, are to be attributed to his liquor and fear-crazed condition after the fatality.

A PANIC IN OIL

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—There was a panic in oil to-day caused by the failure of Craig & Towne, one of the largest oil firms in the country. The market opened at [illegible] and dropped off [illegible], the feeling at noon is a little steadier.

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Joseph Craig, head of the oil firm which failed to-day, since [illegible] has been in business for himself, has been some time a most important factor in oil circles. His transactions were enormous, bold and well planned. As near as can be estimated the firm was long about [illegible],000 barrels, and the difference will amount from $100,000 to $1[illegible],000. Members of the firm say the firm will go through the clearing house all right to-morrow, and in a few days they will be able to resume. The firm has large interests in Kane, Field and Washington counties, as well as other property, and will be able to meet all claims upon it in time. Six months ago Mr. Craig was worth half a million. He made $175,000 in a bull movement last year and fully $200,000 in the bear raid which began in October and ran through the fall. He lost heavily when oil advanced to $1.10, and began buying at from 78 down to 7[illegible]. Such oil as is held here is well covered, and local banks will lose nothing.

ARCHBISHOP GIBBONS MADE A CARDINAL

BALTIMORE, May 18.—Archbishop Gibbons this morning received an official communication from the papal secretary of state informing him of his elevation to the cardinalate by the pope. The above announcement, coming from the Vatican as it does with the "Fisherman's" seal, is a consummation of what has been regarded as a fixed fact ever since the fall of 1885. It had been the intention of the pope to have conferred the dignity upon Archbishop Gibbons in March last, but the consistory usually held in that month was postponed and official notification withheld until May, the date of the letter.

VERDICT AGAINST THE WESTERN UNION

NEW YORK, May 18.—The trial of the suit of James H. Goodsell to recover $250,000 damages from the Western Union telegraph company, and which has occupied the jury in Judge O'Gorman's court during two weeks past, was this afternoon closed by a verdict for Goodsell against the Western Union for the full amount, to which was added $1.50 for counsel. Damages were claimed by Goodsell for breach of contract, the Western Union having failed to make good a contract Goodsell had with the Atlantic and Pacific telegraph company which the Western Union absorbed.

FUNERAL OF THE EXPOSITION

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—The remaining property of the late American exposition was sold yesterday at auction by the sheriff, on one year's credit at 5 per cent interest. The building cost over $300,000 and contains over 10,000,000 feet of lumber. It has acres of glass roofing. The ground dimensions are 1378x565 feet. The highest bid was $30,000. The government building brought $4100 and sundries $11,680. A junk dealer was the purchaser. This was the funeral of the New Orleans exposition.

RECEIVER APPOINTED

ALBANY, May 18.—Judge Parker has appointed John O'Brien, chairman of the democratic state central committee, receiver of the Broadway road.

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR IMPROVING

NEW YORK, May 18.—Ex-President Arthur is reported to be steadily improving. He expects to go out for a drive to-morrow, if the weather is fine.

WILL ADJOURN TO-DAY

COLUMBUS, O., May 18.—The legislature has adopted a resolution to adjourn to-morrow.

THE LABOR TROUBLES

MEETING OF REPRESENTATIVES OF TRADES UNIONS.

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Officers of twenty national trades unions met here with closed doors this afternoon, to take united action. It was stated to resist encroachments being made upon unions by the Knights of Labor. Thirty-two associations were represented by delegates or letters and claim to have a total membership of 3[illegible],755. The representative of each organization presented his grievance.

At the close of the evening session, which continued until after midnight, the secretary stated that resolutions had been adopted ordering that in view of the success that has attended the efforts of national and international unions in the past they should strictly preserve their distinct and individual autonomy; that it is not deemed advisable for any trades union to be controlled by or to join the Knights of Labor in a body, believing that trades unions are best qualified to regulate their own internal trade affairs. The resolutions further declare that it is the purpose of a certain element of the Knights of Labor to destroy trades unions, and that this element makes it a point to encroach on the mission and prerogatives of trades unions, arousing antagonism and provoking dissensions in the labor movement, to the delight and satisfaction of capital. The conference, however, concluded that some concerted plan of action was absolutely necessary to prevent a continuance of this destructive policy, and to establish harmonious and fraternal relations between all the various branches of organized labor, and a set of terms was drafted with this object in view to be presented as a treaty for consideration of the Knights of Labor, which will meet next Tuesday at Cleveland. The nature of the terms was not disclosed. They will be submitted to the general executive board of the Knights of Labor on Monday next by the committee.

THE SITUATION AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, May 18.—The remaining troops ordered here by the governor as a means of protection against violence in connection with the recent strikes, were ordered away to-day. The strike situation is vacillating. While some classes of men are returning to work, others hold out, and others are coming out among planing mill hands, who have organized and demand eight hours' work with ten hours' pay. The Grocers' association has granted the request of the clerks to close at 7 P. M., excepting Saturdays.

A STRIKE ENDS IN A ROW.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Brooklyn sugar workers' strike has been declared at an end and the union dissolved. Frederick Weingardt, one of the strikers, assaulted John D. Engle, president of the organization, at a late hour last night and attempted to stab him. None of the strikers returned to work to-day.

CALIFORNIA.

[illegible] EMPLOYMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The Knights of Labor of this city have issued a circular [illegible] the opening in a few days of a bureau for [illegible] employment. The circular says: "With the means at our disposal, we can say to the woodmen of Truckee, the farmers of the Sacramento valley and fruit growers of Southern California, Give us your contracts and we will supply places with [illegible], sober and intelligent labor."

DEATH OF JAMES C. JOHNSON

The death of [illegible] James C. Johnson is announced, from heart disease. He had been a member of the Colorado legislature two terms.

MURDERED IN HIS CABIN

CROVILLE, Cal., May 18.—Last evening John Moore, an old resident of this county, was found murdered in his cabin at [illegible], about twenty miles east of this place. No further particulars received. Suspicion points to a half breed [illegible]. The coroner and sheriff have gone to the scene of the crime.

IDAHO

INDIANS ON THE WARPATH

SAND POINT, May 18.—Capt. John S. [illegible]'s party have just returned from the Calispel valley. They report [illegible] Indians on the warpath. They were camped on [illegible] flat in Berkley creek. This [illegible] have [illegible] troops of the Second United States cavalry was met fifteen miles north of Calispel falls en route to the warriors' camp. Settlers have been notified to [illegible] the attacks by the Indians.

STATE DISPATCHES

CLATSOP COUNTY PROHIBITION TICKET

ASTORIA, May 18.—The county prohibition convention met to-day and nominated the following ticket: State senator, W. D. [illegible]; representative, D. [illegible] Caswell; county clerk, James Bal[illegible]; sheriff, [illegible] Gray; treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Parker; assessor, W. [illegible]; coroner, May Young; county judge, J. C. [illegible]; county commissioners, J. [illegible] Adair and W. McGregor.

AN IRISHMAN ON THE CHINESE

Patrick J. Healy, an Irishman, denounces in the Overland Monthly the spirit exhibited by his countrymen toward the Chinese in California. Mr. Healy fairly argues that the Irish race have felt the force of race hatred on part of their English rulers so long that they have no excuse for their illiberal crusade against the Chinese. He says:

"Let us remember how inconsistently we have been placed in relation to the negro, how we came here suffering the results of persecution in our own country, and scarcely had we touched American soil ere we became an integral portion of a party whose record on the question of human slavery is a blot upon their escutcheon which cannot be effaced."

Mr. Healy asserts that so far as the cheapness of Chinese labor in shoe manufacturing is concerned the Chinese shoemakers in San Francisco got from $30 to $40 per month with board, which was higher wages than Massachusetts shoemakers command. The board, also, was not limited to rice, as the Chinese were beginning to eat beef, pork, fish and fowl. About 50 per cent of the boots and shoes worn on the Pacific coast are made in the Atlantic states, and are sold cheaper than the Chinese-made goods. About two-thirds of the tanners in San Francisco, who are white, would be thrown out of employment by the suspension of the Chinese workmen. He holds that the Chinese have not been allowed to adopt western civilization. San Francisco for over a quarter of a century refused to provide a school building for its Chinese and then only as the result of appeals to the courts although they were subject to the burdens of taxation. As to the charge of immorality, Mr. Healy says: "It is unbecoming for a community that has had three vigilance committees within twenty-six years [illegible] to say much about the moral status of the stranger within its gates—a community, too, upon whose streets may be seen any pleasant day a score of unconvicted murderers sunning themselves and hobnobbing with the best society."

ITEMS FROM THE DALLES

THE DALLES, Or., May 17

The Grand lodge of Odd Fellows meets here to-morrow. A large attendance is expected. Many have already arrived.

Politics is the leading topic of the day. The county is very close, and with the prohibition ticket in the field the result at the June election is rendered still more uncertain.

Nightwatchman James Blakeney caught one Charles Wagner in the act of making improper overtures to Mrs. (Blakeney's) wife one evening last week while she was returning from the post-office and gave the offender an unmerciful whipping. Blakeney has been arrested and will be tried to-morrow.

Our genial Sheriff James B. Crossen has been appointed postmaster at this place. Mr. Crossen is a competent official and his appointment gives satisfaction. Mrs. L. M. Wilson, who has filled the position for the past twelve years, has pleased the people and no fault can be found with her management of the office. She has many friends who are sorry to see her retire.

Dick Edwards, a half breed, was shot in the shoulder near Tygh valley in this county a few days since. No one was with him at the time and he reports that in dismounting from his horse his revolver—a 44-calibre Colt's—fell from its scabbard, and striking on a rock was discharged with the effect above stated. Edwards has been wanted for some time to answer to a charge of horse stealing, he having stolen fourteen head of horses from an Indian. Some, therefore, doubt Edwards's story of the shooting, and think he was shot by some Indian who was in pursuit of him.

CAMPAIGN SHOTS

The liveliest political paper in Oregon just now is the Prohibition Star. These shots from its locker were delivered on Monday:

Nobody wants either Pennoyer or Cornelius for governor. Assert your independence. Cast your ballot for Houston.

Judge Waldo is to be slain in the house of his friends. Marston must be elected treasurer and Waldo makes good trading material.

The Pennoyer-Butler combination was weak enough, but what have the people of Oregon done to be afflicted with the Cornelius-Marston circus?

Waldo is to be traded in Marston's interest in Multnomah, and in Cornelius's interest in Linn. The ring don't want Waldo, and they do want Marston and Cornelius.

Poor Cornelius! The pliant tool he must be. In his speech at the opera house he said he had been out of politics for fourteen years and thought he had been retired. The people thought so too. But then, Mitchell sent on the word from Washington and the new Rip Van Winkle was aroused from his slumbers.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES

BROWNSVILLE, May 17

The weather is fine, and considerable improvement work is being done here now.

Mrs. May [illegible] and family departed last week for a [illegible] weeks' visit to relatives in San Francisco.

No well regulated household should be without a bottle of Angostura Bitters, the world renowned appetizer and invigorator. Beware of counterfeits. Ask your grocer or druggist for the genuine article, manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

Gladstone Causes a Sensation in the Commons.

THE OPINION OF EDMUND YATES.

Description of Miss Folsom's Trousseau—Mount Etna in a State of Eruption—Dynamite Outrage in Canada—Etc.

LONDON, May 18.—Gladstone in the commons this afternoon moved that the house devote four nights out of the five given to parliamentary business every week to debate on the home rule bill. The premier's proposal produced a sensation, as it had come to be generally believed without any clearly defined reason why, that the government had about given up hope of carrying their measures, and would bring on a crisis as early as possible. An excited discussion at once followed Gladstone's motion. During this both sides to the controversy revealed their position. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach (conservative) said his party wanted a pledge that the debate would be finished Friday next. To this Gladstone answered that his reckoning extended the debate far beyond the date fixed by the opposition. After a long and warm discussion Gladstone's motion was carried.

A WITTY SPEECH BY LABOUCHERE

Mr. Labouchere said it was clear that the plan of [illegible] the opposition was to get rid of Mr. Gladstone. The liberals who were opposing the [illegible] were simply asserting the power of the tories to pursue their [illegible]. Mr. Labouchere's speech was full of witticisms and convulsed the house, especially references that he made to Mr. Chamberlain's [illegible]. [illegible] reminded him of Moses on Mount Sinai. The member for Birmingham would be as much surprised if anybody doubted that he was [illegible] Moses, [illegible] Israelite [illegible] amendment to the [illegible] commandments. When Mr. Labouchere suggested that the bill be dropped after the second reading Mr. Gladstone [illegible] and closely watched the effect of the speaker's remarks upon the parliamentary members. Mr. Dillon and other Irish members [illegible] simultaneously and in reply to Mr. Labouchere's [illegible] shouted [illegible]. Mr. Labouchere was undoubtedly inspired to make the proposal. He has recently had frequent interviews with Mr. Morley and party managers. Mr. Labouchere, in the course of his speech, likened Mr. Chamberlain to a conservative jackal or whipper-in for the whig cave. Among Mr. Chamberlain's many good qualities, he said, was magnificent confidence in himself, which led him to consider that nothing could be good that had not been originated by him. His [illegible], however, made him leap before he looked. He thereby compromised himself and he felt obliged to continue in what he knew to be an erroneous cause.

On motion of Mr. McCarty the debate was adjourned.

EDMUND YATES'S OPINION

NEW YORK, May 18.—A London cablegram says: Edmund Yates, whose political predictions have lately been totally fulfilled, says in this morning's World: "I am enabled to announce on the highest authority that the defeat of the government is to be followed by the immediate dissolution of parliament. Gladstone discussed the whole situation with the queen at an audience which her majesty gave him at Buckingham palace, and he received her sanction for dissolution, which I am informed is declared to be the only reasonable and practical solution of the existing complications, and the only [illegible] which can be expected to lead to at least a temporary settlement for all parties. I understand that the queen was ultimately convinced by Gladstone's arguments that the course which he proposes to pursue is best under the circumstances, and a complete understanding about the impending crisis now exists between her majesty and the prime minister. The uncompromising attitude which Gladstone has assumed during the last ten days is due to his profound conviction that a general election will give him a working majority, and that his opponents—conservatives, radicals or whigs—will be smitten hip and thigh."

AN OFFER FROM NEW YORK

LONDON, May 18.—The Irish National league has received from the Ninth New York regiment and the "Clan na Gael" society of that city offers to equip, transport and maintain in the field 10,000 men to support home rule in Ulster against any and all [illegible] opposition.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Relative to a cable dispatch received to-day to effect that the Ninth regiment and Clan na Gael had offered to send 11,000 men to impose home rule on Ulster, an officer of the regiment this evening said there was no truth whatever in it. Similar denials are made for Clan na Gael.

FRANCE.

MISS FOLSOM'S TROUSSEAU

NEW YORK, May 18.—A cable special from Paris says: Miss Folsom's trousseau, which will soon reach New York, has for days past been the talk of Paris. The wedding dress is a form of ivory satin. The skirt and corsage are simple, but their simplicity is relieved by a wealth of soft silk and Indian muslin embroidered with orange blossoms, attached to the left side of the skirt and nearly meeting the court train, which is over four yards in length. The train is slightly rounded and falls in two organ pleats. Two delicate muslin scarfs, bordered with orange blossoms, are daintily draped across the front corsage, and crossing the corsage from left to right is a broad cincture of satin fastened at the hip. The sleeves, which leave the wrists and arms bare almost to the elbows, have three bands of Indian muslin draped on them, forming a pelisse, while inside the arms near the elbow, the sleeves are adorned with tiny sprigs of orange blossoms. The bridal veil is nearly seven yards long, of plain white silk tulle, and relieved by myrtle and orange blossoms. It will be worn high on the head and will fall gracefully over the train, completely covering it. For traveling dress Miss Folsom has chosen a charming deep gray stuff, over a simple dark gray silk petticoat. The corsage opens so as to reveal a double breasted waistcoat trimmed half way between the throat and waist with velvet trimming. At the top is a high collar fastened by a coquettish gray velvet bow. The waistcoat is brightened by rows of steel buttons and the whole costume is completed by a large gray hat lined with velvet and trimmed with ribbon and ostrich feathers.

CANADA

DYNAMITE OUTRAGES IN ORANGEVILLE.

ORANGEVILLE, Ont., May 18.—Two dynamite explosions occurred here last night—one at the office and another at the residence of Police Magistrate Monroe. The office was completely wrecked, and adjoining property was somewhat damaged. The house was badly damaged, but no lives were lost. The indignation of the citizens is very great, as it is the third and most destructive explosion since the initiation of the Scott liquor act. The cause of the outrage is the action of Magistrate Monroe in strictly enforcing the temperance law. Although large rewards have been offered for information regarding the perpetration of the first two explosions, no one has been arrested in connection with the crimes.

SPRAGUE NOTES

SPRAGUE, W. T., May 17

Saturday night ended one of the most celebrated criminal trials that ever took place in Eastern Washington, when the jury in the Bishoff-Fellio murder trial returned a verdict of not guilty. Great credit is due W. H. Dudley in his unrelenting efforts on the part of the defense, as but few people in the community had any doubt but that Bishoff would be convicted.

The contract for building the new court house has been let to one Chris Nygard for $6350. J. M. Stewart, the well known architect, has been selected to superintend the construction, and, under his management, there is no fear that the work will be properly executed.

Young or middle-aged men suffering from nervous debility, loss of memory, premature old age, as the result of bad habits, should send 10 cents in stamps for illustrated book offering sure means of cure. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1886.

NO BOUQUETS WANTED.

A Washington dispatch announces that President Cleveland accepts no presents from strangers, and that all presents sent to the White house by persons who are not the intimate friends of himself or his bride will be returned to the donors. By this decision President Cleveland sets a needed example of manly self respect to all persons in office, great and small in these days when the vulgar habit of public gift giving of all sorts is so common. When the war broke out nearly every cornstalk captain, before he left his state, was given a sword by his company or his grateful and admiring countrymen, who were glad to God speed their parting friends in that spirit of lofty patriotism which made the sacrifice of all your wife's blood relations to the cruel war more tolerable than personal service on the battle-field. Every railroad superintendent who has done his simple duty by his employers and employed is in danger of having a gold watch given him by his men who can ill spare money for baubles at home. Every foreman in a machine shop is in danger of like embarrassment. There is no sense in it. The persons who receive these things are generally manly fellows, who are really embarrassed by watches, sealskin caps and silver tea sets given in this way. An upright employer or superintendent of labor can accept with pride the respect and friendly feeling of his men, but public gifts of this sort only make a stock presentation scene, with its memory of fulsome compliment, sickening to all parties concerned. The silver teapot nuisance deserves to be abated.

Sometimes congress is the scene of such performances. When Mr Blaine was speaker a silver cup was presented to the famous lobbyist Sam Ward, with an inscription saluting the great epicure as king of the lobby. In state legislatures at the East the silver teapot tempest blows annually. The speaker of the house generally gets a "present" at the close of his official term, the members pass the hat and he is surprised with a shower of silver. If he is convivial he is given a silver pitcher and goblets from which he can temper his toddy to the tenderness of his exasperated stomach, if he is not convivial he is given a gold watch and chain, and at the same time the urbane, not to say obsequious, doorkeeper is given a silver timekeeper of a cost commensurate with his limited official usefulness and inferior political influence. If there is a rumor that the speaker is on the eve of matrimony he is given a silver tea set, or a silver urn in which he could either make coffee or carry his wife's ashes, should she be cremated. Sometimes even the pages get a present, in shape of a Waterbury watch which sounds like a buzz saw when you wind it up and is therefore as unpopular as a policeman's rattle in a sleeping car or a hospital.

In some states the thing has come to be a nuisance and a subject for ridicule among sensible men and no collection is taken up for the departing speaker, the oleaginous doorkeeper or the nimble and lively page. It begins to dawn on the legislative mind that there are other and more decent and decorous ways of acknowledging the urbanity and ability of the presiding officer than by making him a present in silver or gold. The simple vote of thanks, gracefully expressed and cordially voted is the only legitimate compliment that is worthy of acceptance by a public officer outside of his legal official emoluments. Every Tammany thief voted himself a jeweled badge at the expense of New York city, and a statue of Tweed was on the deck of his pirate ship about the time it foundered with all on board. The whole business of public gift-giving to holders of business or political trusts is always a silly and generally a sordid act. Duty to a business or political trust cannot honorably accept any gift more palpable than praise or more tangible than thanks, and a man fit for a respectable trust shrinks with sincere disgust from holding out his hands eagerly to catch a silver teapot tossed to him by a coarse-haired committee of local politicians, or from bending his neck to the noose of a gold chain and contingent watch offered him by fellows who believe that duty can be bought with bribes and public virtue with a picture-book. When ex-U S Senator Whyte was mayor of Baltimore, he actually took the breath away from the City hall politicians by refusing to accept from them a silver salver manufactured expressly for him at a cost of $450. Mr Whyte bluntly told the committee that it was the rule of his political life never to receive gifts of any kind—a salutary protest against this disgusting and debasing habit of treating every public man as if he was an African chief or a Sioux warrior, who had to be propitiated by a present of calico, beads, rum and gunpowder, in order to secure his good behavior, or his grateful remembrance that he knows he did his duty because his teapot and his time-piece both remind him of it. He knows he did his duty when he sees his present, just as the man who believed the story that his friend had taken a bull by the tail and thrown him over a high fence, because, as he said, "I've seen the bull." Outside of young children the fewer elaborate gifts, beyond the secret expression of needed charity, or the open warmth of neighborly hospitality, the better. Friendship when sincere does not keep a book account of favors, nor look a gift horse in the mouth to see if his teeth are all pure gold. This mania for public display in gift giving includes even the social circle, and not alone in provincial but in leading city newspapers long lists of wedding presents are published, which have become as big a nuisance as a bushel of flowers at a funeral. If gifts must be given the Scripture admonition not to let your left hand know what your right hand doeth, is good advice. The social rule, however, is to make a bead roll of all the wedding presents and then to call the roll in public as clamorously as a clam peddler blows his fish horn.

DOWN RIVER.

While great numbers of fishermen are at work on the lower Columbia, the troubles growing out of the recent strike are not at an end. There is a hostility between the union and non-union men, which is likely to break out into open warfare at any time. It is an open secret that the men are prepared for a fight and that most of the canneries have been armed. Much has gone on along the river during the past two months which has not reached the outside world. Men not belonging to the union and who refused to accept its dictation, have been set upon in mid river, in their cabins or in other places, by armed ruffians and beaten in the most shameless manner. One man, and it is whispered that there are many more such cases, was so misused that he died a few days after.

One good consequence has followed this strife among fishermen. The first vigorous salmon run of the season has been permitted to pass up to the spawning grounds, insuring a good season's "crop" of young salmon. This is really a piece of good fortune, since the demands have been so great of late years that there is danger of entirely despoiling the river. The Sacramento, once a fine salmon stream, is almost "fished out," and it is said that all the canneries there will lose money this season. This ought to be taken as a warning here.

It appears probable that congress will enact a law restricting all foreign vessels to the enjoyment of such privileges in American ports as the government to which the vessels belong accords to American vessels. The object of this bill is to retaliate upon the Canadian government for the injury done to American fishing vessels in Canadian waters. This is right and just, and it will probably result in bringing the Canadian government to terms.

Again we must remind correspondents that we can not print anonymous communications. In every case the editor must know who the writer is. Although this statement has been made over and over again, we are annoyed daily with letters unaccompanied by the names of the writers. A letter from Salem, in type-writer script, received last night, will be printed if its author will give the editor his name, and not otherwise.

BREAKING JAIL WITH A PARDON.

Efforts are being made to secure a pardon for James D. Fish, the ex-president of the Marine National Bank of New York City, who was sent to Sing Sing penitentiary last June for ten years. The downfall of Fish was a notable instance of a man, who, after rising by legitimate mercantile industry and financial talent to an honorable position and the possession of large wealth, fell a victim at last to his overmastering greed for money. He was 65 years of age rich and in good repute, and yet he deliberately helped that feather-headed scoundrel, Ferdinand Ward, bait a hook with a swindle and went angling for more money. The result was that he fell into the water himself, and was socially and financially drowned for life beyond resuscitation. He had a vast deal more money once than he could possibly have needed for himself and family, and yet he staked the results of a long life of honorable success, staked absolute security of high social and business standing to the end of his days against the desperate chance of marketing the swag of a swindle and potting it down without detection or at least without legal punishment. He belonged to the same class of moral perverted persons who are victimized by the saw dust swindle; they corruptly bargain for and expect to receive and circulate counterfeit money and feel very sorry when they get only saw-dust for their corrupt investment. That is, Fish knew that Ward's pretended business was a swindle, and his own books and correspondence proved clearly that he contributed to the success of the swindle by methods that no honest man would employ. He is in the penitentiary because he worshiped so fervently at the shrine of the golden calf and the golden hog that he recklessly stepped over the line that separates the legal swindle and and business piracy within the law. He was so greedy that his intellectual and moral eyesight became myopic, he leaped without taking distance correctly and tumbled into the pit of the penitentiary; he wanted the earth and won a prison, where, unless the present effort succeeds, he will stay until he is at least 72 years of age. And this is a man for whom, after less than a year's confinement, extraordinary efforts are made to secure a pardon. No pardon ought ever issue to this felon. He is one of the few great swindlers that ever received a sentence commensurate with their crimes and the large measure of the light they sinned against.

In 1883 the president of the City bank of Rochester, N Y, stole $200,000, was convicted merely of misdemeanor, and was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary. A man of large capacity for public mischief betrays a great and important public trust, and gets the same sentence that a poor devil of small capacity to harm anybody but himself gets for a turbulent week of debauch. The bummer's sentence may not be too severe, very likely the enforced sobriety is good for him and for the state; but what must ignorant, honest men think of the integrity and impartiality of the machinery of human justice when they see a bank president rob his bank of $200,000 and get no severer sentence than a boisterous bummer gets for a very demonstrative "drunk." A sure way to make rough ignorant men lawless is to let them see that rascality and crime are only severely punished when their authors are poor and ignorant and therefore socially and politically powerless. The spectacle of an intelligent, capable man of fine moral opportunities and large responsibilities going unwhipt of justice, while the extremity of the law is meted out to the comparatively poor, ignorant, weak, friendless and irresponsible offender, is calculated to bring law into contempt and increase crime, because illiterate men grow to believe that there is no absolute right or wrong; that might is the only right; that money is all powerful in courts, as in commerce. No more dangerous doctrine can be taught than is set forth in the object-lesson of a rich rascal getting off with light punishment for his crimes, or getting stern punishment only to have it robbed of all significance by speedy pardon. And for this reason the pardon of such felons as Fish never ought to be granted.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

Little may be said for either of the "platforms" which this year as usual, are made up for the most part of empty and sounding phrases. But in each there are a few points. Resolution No 17 of the republican platform, relating to the postal service, which has been curtailed greatly in this state by Postmaster-General Vilas, is entirely warranted and proper. It is as follows:

> We condemn the so called economy of the present postmaster-general in refusing additional accommodations required by a rapidly growing section of the country, by striking a severe blow at our interests in depriving our citizens of the accustomed mail facilities and we demand a restoration and increase of our postal service to meet the wants of our people.

Here, in general terms, is a complaint entirely just. It is no answer to this complaint to show that during the administration of General Vilas the number of postoffices in the state has been increased. It is not with reference to the number of postoffices that complaint is made, nor to the number of miles of star route service, but to the way the various offices and routes are served. Routes over which there used to be daily mails are now traveled by the mail carrier but twice or thrice a week. And where formerly the mail went through in one day or two it now goes in two days or three. One or two other routes have been abandoned and appeals for the establishment of new routes have been denied, we believe in every instance. Southern and Eastern Oregon have been the victims of this parsimonious policy. It is an annoyance everywhere and a real hardship to many remote settlements.

These causes of complaint are quite apart from the number of postoffices, which has little to do with the matter. "V. E. H." in a letter printed in yesterday's Oregonian, made an answer to the resolution quoted above apparently candid and complete, while in fact he avoided consideration of the real grievance.

It begins to be evident that the ring managers in Portland are in unusual perturbation. All the whippers in have been started out to deal with the "scratchers" and "kickers" but the number of these troublesome citizens is so large as to be truly alarming. The man who will vote the straight ring ticket, unless he is some way connected with the ring through its manipulation of local and state affairs, it is confidently asserted, has not yet been reported. How would it do for the managers to offer a premium for one? He certainly would be a curiosity, a sort of political dodo, fit to be the attraction of a dime museum.

The News says that the Chinese in Portland "have been treated fairly by the law and by the people." This is a particularly shameless lie, and it is as useless as shameless. The Chinese of Portland and vicinity have been subjected to infamous outrages, and a large squad of "the people" are at this moment under indictment therefor. These facts are known of all men. Why then should even that organ which encouraged, abetted, approved or made merry over these outrages, now put in a lying denial about them?

Eulogies were delivered in congress on Saturday over the late Michael Hahn of Louisiana. The dreary character of congressional obituary eloquence was appreciated by Thad Stevens on his deathbed, when Grinnell a clerical member of congress from Iowa, asked him to name somebody he would prefer to deliver the mortuary remarks concerning him in the house. Stevens answered, "I don't care a —— who does it, but I thank God I shan't be there to hear it."

Smalley's Northwest for May is devoted chiefly to Seattle. There are many good illustrations. The descriptive and historical matter is furnished by Mr. Beriah Brown.

The Charleston (S. C.), News and Courier says that in the five savings banks of that city colored men have $124,036 on deposit, the largest sum being $6747 and the smallest $—. The News adds:

> The largest colored depositor in the Carolina savings bank, who has $6747 to his credit, is a pure-blooded African, but a born financier. He has recently bought a valuable plantation for $10,000 and has paid $7000 of the purchase money. There are thousands of active and thrifty colored men in the state who have bought land since the war, and who are steadily collecting about them the comforts and many of the luxuries of life.

HOMICIDE CAPTURED

THE DALLES, May 18

Jack Smith who shot Pete Mogan last month was arrested yesterday near Mosier station, thirteen miles west of The Dalles. Smith went to the residence of Robert Dinsmore and inquired for work. Mr D recognized him and caused his arrest. Young Mogan will be remembered died four days after he was shot. This makes three brothers who have been killed. Mike Mogan was shot and instantly killed by Mort Barnes in a saloon row at Prineville in 1882. Frank Mogan met a similar fate at the same place in 1884 at the hands of Bud Thompson and Pete Mogan was shot in this place by Jack Smith a few weeks ago. Smith's examination will take place to-morrow.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

BUYING DEMAND FOR CATTLE.—Eastern dealers have for some time been buying largely of cattle in the Willamette valley and paying what has been considered very good prices therefor. Extensive purchases have also been made in other parts of the state as will be seen by the following from the Baker City Sage Brush: "Two stockmen from Canada whose names we did not learn have been in the valley for the past week buying up a large number of cattle to ship to the British possessions. Mr J Q Shirley who lives near Union sold them one thousand head in one bunch. One large band has already been driven to Wallula and the other band consisting of about fourteen hundred head will follow in a few days. They have also bought several saddle horses paying good prices for them. The gentlemen are said to be very wealthy and think cattle buying is the surest investment. A number of cow boys in this vicinity will help drive the band to Wallula. The late news of extensive loss of cattle in Texas from drouth will have a tendency to stiffen the price of cattle of all kinds here and it might also remind those who have been growling about the beautiful spring, however which have blessed this garden spot of the whole world for the past few weeks that it is seldom that we get too much of a good thing.

SAIL MANUFACTURING IN PORTLAND.—The sight of some fourteen men busy at work at W. C. Noon & Co's yesterday on an entire new suit of sails for the Tillie E. Starbuck is another proof that the manufacturing interests of Portland are being gradually extended and that competition with the East is not impossible. This is the first time that a job of this magnitude in the way of sail making has been attempted in Portland. More or less work in this line has been done here but chiefly in the way of single sails, and when a ship needed a full suit the work has always heretofore been sent to San Francisco. Noon & Co have increased their facilities and will not allow such jobs in future to leave Portland. They have demonstrated that skill and energy will enable them to compete with the East even when they have to import their materials from that section. They ship their goods as far east as Salt Lake and Spanish Fork and are gradually extending their trade in that direction. A ship like the Starbuck spreads about 6000 yards of canvas, and to make her a complete suit will occupy fourteen men about a month and the suit will cost about $3000. The furnishing employment to these men and keeping this money here is a very good thing and if we only had more manufactories there would be greater prosperity

ACTIVITY IN RAILROAD BUILDING.—There is every indication of great activity in railroad matters the present season. Numerous parties well known to be connected with various railroads are seen around town but they are very reticent as to their intentions. It is understood that the Oregon Short Line is negotiating for grounds here for depot purposes. In fact it was stated a few days since that the necessary grounds had been secured, but the statement has not been confirmed. The great object of every transcontinental line seems to be to reach salt water. Parties in the interest of the Short Line are looking for an outlet to the coast and it is expected that they will in a short time secure harbor holdings possibly at Yaquina. The Northern will soon connect with the shore at Tacoma. The O R & N is building thirty-one miles of road. The California road is rapidly advancing to the Oregon line and the O & C must soon stretch out to meet it. The narrow gauge will be in to Dallas in a short time. The Oregon Pacific has parties in the field away out near the Idaho line, and are also getting ready to extend their road to Albany. All these things indicate that railroad building will be more active than it has been for two years

BRITISH BARK SOLD.—At United States marshal's sale yesterday the British wooden bark Director was sold to Taylor Young & Co agents for $5000 as the vessel lies at Flanders wharf. The Director was built at Moss Glen N B in 1873, and registers 679 tons. The price paid is no criterion of the bark's value as there has lately been expended about $6000 for repairs. By agreement between owners and charterers the vessel and cargo were sold the cargo of wheat going at $1 13½ per cental or about $15,944 to J C [illegible] & Co. Whether or not this ends the Director case remains to be seen. The charterers have not secured by the sale anywhere near the amount of damages sued for. The bark was loaded with wheat in October last, valued at $30,000. After being loaded she was found to be leaky the cargo was discharged, and vessel hove down and repaired. The charterers brought suit for damages based upon depreciation of cargo during time of repairs and for charges. Should further redress be sought it will have to be against the owners in Canada.

HOW TO IMPROVE THE CARP'S FLAVOR.—People who have eaten carp in this country and found nothing attractive to the palate in them may be interested to know that the fish must be freshened for at least two weeks before they are fit to eat. This information comes from Dr Philip Tryborn a Swedish pisciculturist now in this city. He is very familiar with all the characteristics of the carp and its culture in the old country. As everyone knows the carp is a mud fish. If it is taken directly from its home in ponds the taste is that and mudd. In Germany and Sweden the fish are never eaten until they have been placed in running water for a fortnight or three weeks. The usual plan is to build a corral by driving stakes or by piling up stones in some brook placing the carp in it and letting them stay there until wanted. A month is not too long. The meat becomes firm whiter and sweeter and is considered first-rate eating

EXCURSION TO THE SEASIDE.—The young people of Grace church have perfected arrangements for an excursion to the seaside on Saturday June 19 and have been fortunate enough to secure the magnificent side wheel steel steamer Olympian. This will be her first trip and as she is the fastest steamer on the coast the excursionists will have the pleasure of reaching the seaside quicker than they have ever before done. The appointments and furnishings of the Olympian are very luxurious which will be seen when it is stated that to build and equip her cost $300,000. She will carry upward of 1500 people without crowding. Her length is 286 feet and seventy two feet beam and fully lighted with electric lights. The excursion leaves at 7 A M and returns at 10 P M. Astoria, Ilwaco and Fort Canby will be visited. Several hours can be spent at either place. The excursion offers an opportunity for a day of rare pleasure and no doubt will be very largely patronized

THE CATTLE RANGES.—The grass on the ranges of Eastern Oregon is better now than it has been at this season any time within twenty years. So says Ben E. Snipes, who drove the first cattle into the Yakima country more than a quarter of a century ago and who has been prominently identified with the cattle business ever since. Mr Snipes has purchased four fine short horn bulls from the herds of W S Ladd, which will be placed on some of his ranches in the Yakima, where he has sixty head of thoroughbred short horn cows. Cattle on the ranges are fattening rapidly now, and it is hoped that owing to the large rain fall of this spring the bunchgrass will fully mature before it withers. This will make good pasture all the fall. Last year the grass got a good start but hot weather came too soon and the grass dried up before it reached maturity and consequently when winter came on cattle were in poor condition

EDUCATED FISH.—The salmon in Oregon rivers would not take a fly when the country was first settled out now they will. The taste for flies is like that of the Mikado an acquired taste and the salmon have to be educated up to it. Education has done wonders for the salmon and other fish are also catching on. Two of THE OREGONIAN'S young men went up to Johnson creek and found that the crawfish had become educated and would bite better than the trout. They not only take bait but will rise to a fly and if the boys had been out for crawfish they would have had a good [illegible]. They however became disgusted with catching crawfish, and when one of them pulled in a clam which had seized the hook between its shells they reeled up their line and quit fishing in disgust. This is the first instance on record of a clam taking a bait and it shows that even the mollusks are becoming educated.

DESERVING A BENEFIT.—Next Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon Company [illegible] of the Oregon state militia will give three minstrel performances at the Casino. Enough seats have been sold to insure good houses but the theater ought to be packed to the doors. Two months ago when it was thought that the force of a mob would have to be met with musketry every member of Co [illegible] answered to the call and proved himself a soldier. It is not too much to say that Portland is indebted to this company in no small degree for the peace which prompt action and the willingness of spirit displayed brought about. Now that the company asks for funds to buy uniforms and offers in return for the money a clean bright popular entertainment no property owner ought to refuse to buy at least one ticket. Reserved seats are to be had at McKercher & Thompson's.

"PANTS" PATTERSON SUED FOR DIVORCE.—Ellen Patterson has brought suit in the state circuit court against Charles M Patterson of the Canyon creek laundry on the ground of cruel treatment. They were married September 18[illegible] in Portland. The complaint states that about five years since defendant commenced a systematic course of cruel treatment had her falsely arrested on several occasions, and incarcerated etc. That defendant is the owner of a laundry business worth at least $5000 and cash on deposit in bank and in respondent's notes of the value of $20,000. Wherefore plaintiff prays that the marriage contract be annulled for reasonable alimony and such other relief as he may be entitled to in equity

NEW WAREHOUSES.—It appears as if Judge Deady's decision on the petition of Receiver Chas. N. Scott of the narrow gauge railways is to result in securing a plentiful supply of warehouses along those roads. The Oregon milling company will at once proceed to erect three warehouses, one at Aumsville one at Waldo hills and another at east side junction. The last installment of the machinery for these warehouses arrived here yesterday from the East and the work of construction will be commenced at once and pushed forward vigorously in order that the buildings may be ready in time for the coming harvest

IN SWIMMING NAKED.—The bathing season has commenced and complaint has already been lodged at this office about boys bathing within the city limits in a state of nudity. A whole gang of young hoodlums were in yesterday just above the boneyard and much annoyed people passing in that vicinity. Will Chief of Police Parish instruct some of the finest to keep a lookout along the city front and prevent a continuance of this nuisance.

THE FARMINGTON BRANCH.—Yesterday afternoon about 150 men left here for the Palouse country to go to work on the branch of the O. R. & N road from Colfax to Farmington, a distance of thirty-one miles. The contract for the grading has been let to Nelson Bennett, who will transfer some of the forces engaged on the Northern Pacific. He agrees to have the grading completed by September 1.

LATE SALMON RUN.—Reports from the lower Columbia are rather discouraging. There appears to be but few fish in the river boats coming in with very small take running from twenty fish down. There was a fine early run of fish as is evidenced by the takes at the Cascades and at C[illegible] but they seem to have passed up before the strike had been settled and the fishing begun. A fresh run was expected in on the high tides at full moon but they have not put in an appearance yet notwithstanding that the river is rising and becoming discolored. There seems however to be no fish on the bar but they may come in soon. Fishermen look for a fresh run of salmon on the high tides at full and new moon

PASTOR TO BE INSTALLED.—The Presbytery of Oregon will meet in the new church at Albina this evening to install Rev W O Forbes as pastor of that church. The services will be of peculiar interest to the people of Albina who are cordially urged to be present. Rev E T Lee the moderator of the Presbytery will conduct the services. Rev Dr Thompson of Salem, will preach the sermon. Rev D Lindsley will charge the pastor. Rev Mr Laughlin will charge the people. Services will begin at 7 45 o clock

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.—Yesterday Drs C. F. Geiger and R. F. Miller performed successfully a case of craniotomy upon Mrs George Smith of [illegible] City. This is regarded by physicians a most difficult operation. The patient is doing well

THE COURTS

Kittner Awarded Damages for $4000 against Watson Wright & Co—Litigation Notes

Hess Bros & Co of San Francisco yesterday brought suit in the state circuit court against W J Quinn to recover $1494 43. They set forth in the complaint that he is in their debt to the amount of $1,38.20 for goods sold and delivered and that they hold an assigned claim of Kline & Co against him for $36, and one of H M Heinman & Co for $[illegible].

In Stearns's court yesterday a petition was filed in the matter of the assignment of Wm Ferron for the removal of Wm Honeyman as assignee and the 31st day of May set as the time for the creditors to elect.

R. D. Freeborn yesterday got judgment by default against Edward Martin for $306 25. Freeborn papered the walls and ceiling of the Argonaut saloon, and as he did not receive his pay he sued Martin to recover with the above result.

J Murey was arraigned in Judge Stearns's court yesterday and allowed until to-day to plead to a charge of stabbing J R Luslon. A like order was entered in the case of one-legged Johnny Mooney.

The divorce case of George Diebold vs. Annie Diebold has been referred to N D Simon as referee to take testimony and report. The defendant yesterday filed an answer to plaintiff's complaint in which she denies that she ever accused him of adultery, treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner, or in any way caused his life to be burdensome

The jury in the case of Fred Kittner vs Watson Wright & Co yesterday brought in a verdict for plaintiff for $4000. The defendants on motion were allowed twenty days to file a motion for a new trial and bill of exceptions.

A mandate was received from the supreme court in the case of Martha Comstock vs. Martha C. Butler dismissing the appeal and ordering that the appellants pay the costs.

In the case of Joseph Sturchler vs Frank P Yost judgment was yesterday rendered by Judge Smith for the possession of property

POLICE COURT

Arthur Davis a negro who has frequently been sent to jail for roaming the streets after midnight was tried and convicted in the police court yesterday on a charge of vagrancy. Davis, for months past has been a hanger-on about some of the lowest dives at the lower end of town among them a newly incorporated 5-cent all round liquor establishment, and has made himself conspicuous by his general worthlessness. Davis pleaded that he one time washed a window and on another occasion a floor. Judge Dement in passing sentence told Davis he had given him quite a number of opportunities to reform and this time would allow him twenty five days to debate and think over the subject. It cost Minnie Reynolds $10 for acting in a disorderly manner and disturbing the neighbors in the vicinity of her residence Monday night. Officer Beach arrested her. She put up $10 bail and failing to appear for trial it was ordered into the city treasury

FOR $60 000 COMMISSION

Second Trial of the Suit of J H Fisk against D V B Henarie and Others.

Yesterday in state circuit court department No 1 the trial of the case of J H. Fisk vs D B Henarie Eleanor Martin, for herself and heirs of Edward Martin deceased. In this action Fisk brings suit for $60,000 as commission in finding a purchaser for 600 000 acres of land known as The Dalles military wagon road land grant. In his statement he claims that he went East and found a purchaser for the land for D V B Henarie and others of San Francisco in the persons of Leigh Payne & Co., of Chicago and London and that he was to receive 10 per cent. commission and has earned the same. No sale of the land was ever really made but plaintiff alleges that this is no valid reason why he should not recover. The defendants claim the purchasers found by Fisk were entirely unable to pay for the land also that Fisk was a partner in interest with some of such purchasers and ought not to recover. The case was tried about one year ago in the state circuit court, when under instructions given by Judge Smith a verdict was brought in by the jury for the defendants. The court's instruction was based upon the grounds that by the law of California a contract for the sale of land must be written and none such existed in this case. The plaintiff relied upon a number of letters between the parties to prove such a written contract. An appeal was taken to the supreme court and the judgment reversed and the case now comes up on its second trial.

The trial so far has been unexciting as the evidence offered was mostly in the form of letters and depositions. Up to 5 o clock yesterday afternoon the plaintiff had just concluded his evidence in chief at which time the defendant moved for a non-suit as to all the parties excepting defendant Henarie. The court not being advised upon the motion on account of its requiring examination of numerous documents, let the decision go over until further on. The court then adjourned until this morning at 9 o clock. George H Williams and H Y Thompson are attorneys for the plaintiff. The defendants are represented by Judge J K Kelly, W B Gilbert and J M Gearin.

STEAMBOAT EXCURSIONS

VISIT TO THE TOP OF MULTNOMAH FALLS—Expecting that a large number of ambitious young men going with the Wide West next Saturday to Multnomah falls would attempt the ascent of the falls the pastor of the Hall street M. E church with Mr S S Reed paid a visit to the top of the falls yesterday to find the trail. A copy of the Pacific Christian Advocate was fastened to a flag staff at the top of the falls. The view is pronounced grand. The falls themselves are unusually abundant in water

FIRST-CLASS PICNIC FOR PORTLAND PEOPLE.—A delegation from Hall street M. E. church visited Multnomah falls yesterday to arrange for the picnic next Saturday with the Wide West. No eatables will be served on the steamer. All are invited to take their lunch with them, to eat on the grounds. For those who are not provided refreshments will be served at reasonable rates on the grounds at the falls

TO THE CASCADES.—The Christian church and Sunday school give an excursion Saturday of this week to the Cascades by the swift steamer Telephone. While the objective point is the Cascades those who wish may stop at Multnomah falls or Washougal and have ample time for enjoyment as the Telephone carries no freight and does not make long stops

OLYMPIA ON THE FOURTH.—The ladies of the Taylor street M. E. church have chartered the big steamer for the Fourth of July when they go to Ilwaco with their friends. This will be the excursion of the season par excellence.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE CHANGE

The recent appointment of Messrs Belden & Cofran as managers of the Pacific Coast department of the Hartford Fire Insurance company necessitates the removal to San Francisco of Mr J W G Cofran for the past seven years special agent of that company for Oregon and Washington with headquarters in Portland, who has also during that time represented the Commercial Insurance company of California in a like capacity. The agency of both the Hartford and Commercial for Portland and vicinity (including all of Multnomah county) was yesterday transferred to the well known insurance firm of Henry Hewett & Co who will retain the present office of the above named companies at No 34 Stark street. Messrs. Hewett & Co. have the confidence of the business community and are most favorably known as experienced and successful underwriters

The old Hartford is in point of age the second American company having nearly completed its centenary and has a most enviable record its loss paying qualities having carried it honorably through its long existence. Its cash assets are now nearly five million dollars.

The Commercial, of California, has a similar excellent record and is fairly considered as one of the best administered and thoroughly reliable companies in the United States.

Mr Cofran will carry with him to San Francisco the best wishes of a host of friends and Messrs. Hewett & Co will without doubt well maintain the high reputation of the companies which Mr Cofran has so faithfully represented

RECEIVED AND REFERRED

Some time since the county democracy passed a resolution demanding of President Cleveland that James Lotan U S Inspector of boilers, be removed on account of offensive partisanship and private interests. The following answer has been received

EXECUTIVE MANSION
WASHINGTON D C April 29 1886

Dear Sir:—The president directs me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th inst, and to state that the accompanying resolutions have been read and referred to the information and consideration of the acting secretary of the treasury. Very respectfully,

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

OREGON.

The commencement exercises of the Albany college will be held June 14, 15 and 16.

The Gazette, of Corvallis, says Cornelius was born in Missouri in 1872. Younger than we thought he was.

Nearly all the necessary funds have been raised in Benton county for building a $20,000 agricultural college building.

Brownsville seems to be pushing ahead as fast as any city in the valley. Its woolen mills are a bonanza, on a small scale at least.

A petition requesting the pardon of William Briscoe, who was sent to the penitentiary from Jackson county for stage robbery about three years ago, will soon be circulated.

Grant county News: It has been found necessary to amputate the foot and a portion of the leg of William Axe, of the upper valley. A few months ago they amputated a portion of his foot, but gangrene made a second operation necessary.

Roberts and O'Neil saved the fruit in their orchard near Medford by keeping up a fire during the recent cold night—bonfires of oak wood and dry barnyard manure on the windward side of the orchard. They will have an abundance of peaches.

Linkville Star: The Plevna district school house burned to the ground a few days recently, owing to a defective flue. Mr. O. T. Brown has ordered the school to be continued, and has given the upper story of his dwelling house for the use of the scholars.

The jury in the case of the state vs. George Edwards, indicted for prize-fighting at Jacksonville, having found the defendant not guilty, on account of insufficiency of evidence, the balance of those indicted were thereupon discharged on motion of the district attorney.

Lexington Blade: Hurt Benefiel, the young son of Jas. Benefiel who was so badly kicked by a horse, died Saturday night last. The frontal bone was badly fractured and the poor boy never rallied, although everything that science and attention could do was done for him.

Grant county News: The latest from Monument is to the effect that W. W. Cochran had shot and killed himself after first taking an ineffectual shot at Pry Wilson last Saturday. Justice Branson was on his way to the scene to hold an inquest, but we failed to learn particulars.

A test recently made at the mill at Jacksonville proved that the quartz ledge in Willow Springs district owned by Swinden & Sons will pay to work. The five-stamp mill formerly owned by N. DeLamatter has been purchased by L. D. Brown, and it will be in position and ready for work at this mine as soon as it can be set up.

According to a McMinnville paper, Fred Sitton had an adventure with a bear last Thursday, near the residence of his father. He came across the bear and shot him four or five times, when bruin turned on him, run him up a sapling and kept him there for several hours, when his cries were heard, assistance came and the bear was killed.

Ashland Tidings: Tip Justus, well known in this county, came to his death in an unexpected manner at Grant's Pass last Saturday. As a remedy for colic he took a large dose of liniment, from the effect of which death ensued. His body was taken from Grant's Pass to Jacksonville and buried in the cemetery near the latter town on Tuesday.

Z. F. Moody's brick warehouse is completed at Arlington, and teams are loading and unloading by the capacious platforms constantly. Wool teams will not be compelled hereafter to cross the railroad track. This fire-proof structure is not only an ornament to Arlington, but it is of great convenience to shippers and receivers of freight all over Morrow and Gilliam counties.

The Linkville Star of last Saturday says: The Little Klamath ditch company have finished their flume across Lost river and discharged the carpenters. The secretary, Mr. Trainer, informed us a few day recently that it would probably take some ten days more to finish the ditch and make ready for the reception of the water, which will make the apparently barren sagebrush plains blossom like the rose.

Albany Herald: On Friday evening Bert Wheeler, son of Alfred Wheeler, of this city, met with an accident on the farm of the latter, near Peterson's butte, resulting in the dislocation of his shoulder in a very peculiar manner. He became irate at a cow and struck at her with some missile. The blow fell short, missing the cow and dislocating the young man's shoulder. He was brought to this city, a distance of about sixteen miles, for surgical treatment, reaching here about midnight.

Goldendale Tribune: Some unprincipled wretch or wretches went to the ranch of Mr. J. E. Downing, who lives on the bank of deep canyon, and deliberately shoved his wagon off the bluff. Fortunately but little damage was done. Downing came to this country last summer from San Francisco, Cal., and has made many friends. He had a little trouble with parties that are in the sheep business, last fall. If this dastardly act can be fastened upon the parties suspected a little tar carnival may be the result.

Coast Mail: Sam Hancock of Lampa creek, well known in this county, was found dead on Monday at his place, under circumstances which indicate that he had committed suicide. The steamer Ceres brought the news to Coquille City and Tuesday morning the justice of the peace went down to hold an inquest. For some time he has suffered with an attack of rheumatism, and he has said to friends that if he did not get rid of it he would put himself out of the way. His brother was sick for a long time, and his sufferings made a deep impression on Hancock's mind.

The Bunchgrass Blade reports the following singular accident: Josh Downing, of Eight Mile, came into town on horseback for a physician to attend a young man named Martin on Saturday night, and started back with Dr. Saylor. The night was dark, and both gentlemen being in a hurry, struck a gallop when they came to what they considered was a good stretch of road, when Mr. Downing's horse stepped into a badger-hole and was thrown forward in such a way as to break his neck, killing the horse instantly. Mr. Downing luckily escaped with a sprained wrist. The horse was a noble animal and worth $150.

Jacksonville Sentinel: Messrs. Rieves & Hatch have been at work for some time past cleaning out the old tunnel in what was formerly known as the Davenport mine, and when they got through the cave at the mouth of the tunnel this week they found a complete outfit for carrying on tunnel work. Picks and shovels, a wheelbarrow, drills and gads, and even candlestick and candles, were found at the end of the tunnel. With this outfit to start on they feel encouraged and will prosecute the work of digging further on with vigor. They have also struck an excellent prospect in the quartz, as we have been shown pieces of rock in which free gold could be seen.

Ashland Tidings: Tommy Moore, the half-breed Indian boy who was arrested at Linkville early in the winter for stealing several boatloads of barbed wire from Reames, Martin & Co.'s warehouse, made his second escape from the jail last Tuesday afternoon, and had not been recaptured at last report. This time he cut through the floor and digged his way out under the foundation. Our correspondent says: "Since being in jail he has almost destroyed the building, having made four holes through the floors, broken the inside locks, broken his shackles and loosened all the bars in the windows." Klamath county seems to need a jail pretty badly; and if Tommy ever gets to the penitentiary, he will no doubt be able to give "points" to the old professional "cons" who have spent their lives getting in and out of prison.

WASHINGTON.

Governor Squire is advertising for bids, receivable up to June 15th, for sinking artesian wells in Adams county, provided for by the last legislature.

S. G. Grubb lost from his ranch, two and a half miles west of Cheney, fourteen head of cattle on Monday night last. The wire fence was cut where they were taken out.

Columbia Chronicle: The report reached us Thursday that the vigilantes in Asotin county, near Grande Ronde river, had hung two men for stealing horses and were still in pursuit of others. The entire country is aroused and are backing the vigilance committee. It is hoped that such an example will be made of the light-fingered vaqueros that they will in the future let live stock alone, unless they own it themselves.

A Tacoma paper of Monday gives the following particulars of a heavy seizure of opium: Yesterday two men in a sail boat ran their craft in alongside the boat house of A. M. Duffield, and one of them came up town to get a wagon to convey some boxes and trunks in the same to a hotel, as they said. Mr. Duffield, being suspicious that opium was in the boat, made a search and found 450 pounds of opium concealed. Mr. Duffield arrested the man in charge of the boat and then sent for other officers, and when the man who had gone up town returned he was also arrested. The names of the smugglers: William Main and L. Kelley. They are now in the jail and will have a preliminary hearing to-morrow before U. S. Commissioner J. H. Wilt. The opium is at present in the possession of the sheriff.

The economy and strength of Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequaled. 100 doses one dollar.

COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY, May 18.

Overland receipts include car wagons, car earthenware, 13 tcs hams, 2 tcs 84 sks bacon, 100 cans 200 cs 201 kegs syrup, 12 plates iron, 115 bbls 9 csks 11 tcs glassware, 2 cs candy, car pipe, 78 bdls newspaper, 10 cs 11 bbls whisky, 50 cs mineral water, 36 cs boots and shoes, 10 churns, 4 bags es, 1 organ, 100 bls binder twine, 22 bxs chairs, 18 cookstoves, 6 heating do, 147 pkgs hollow ware.

Str Yaquina, at San Francisco 13th instant from Yaquina bay, larded 1210 sks wheat, 44 sks oats, 4 sks wool, 41 sks oysters, 8 cs eggs, 6 rls leather, 4 bls pelts, 12 bls hides, 204 sks bones, 143 hardwood planks, 5 pkgs wire, 70 pkgs machinery.

The visible supply of American wheat is given by telegraph May 18 as 39,590,330 bushels, a decrease of 2,556,801 bushels in a week. This decrease is the heaviest reported for any week since the declines set in, but it is without effect upon prices.

A San Francisco advice of May 14 says: Yesterday a wheat cargo wood, prompt shipment, was sold on the other side at 34s for orders, which, at £1 10s for the ship, the lowest price recently paid, leaves but $1 28½ for the wheat and no profit for the shipper. The lowest price quoted in this market yesterday by sellers, for cargo lots of wheat, was $1 33½ per cental, and shipowners were asking £1 11s 3d for hard wood ships. Such facts explain the present apathy of exporters.

Boston is the distributing point for peaches for all New England north of Connecticut, and were it not for high freight rates a much larger business would be done there. In 1883 Boston received 630 cars, in 1884 the receipt was 500 cars, and in 1885 it was 460 cars. The season last year was not a good one for peaches because of cool weather. The Delaware fruit generally begins to seek a market in the early part of August, as also does that from the eastern shore of Maryland. New Jersey peaches continue early in September. This season the early weather was cold, but now a very fair crop is expected. Taken altogether, it is believed the Eastern peach crop will be larger than last year. Boston receivers and dealers complain of high freight charges. At present peaches from Delaware and Maryland to Boston pay a freight of $216@250 per car, of which sum $130 is the freight from New York city to Boston. On the same train bananas and other perishable fruit pay only $40 per car. The Boston Fruit Dealers' Exchange are asking a lower rate, and request a rate not above $75 per car from New York.

From eastern trade papers it is learned that straw hat jobbers are enjoying a better trade than for at least fifteen years. The demand for men's straw hats began early and is still very brisk. As has been the case for the last two years, the leading hat is the white mackinaw. There has been very little demand for colored or mixed straw goods, except for children's wear. The style hat is a low crown with a brim from three inches to three and three-quarters, made from white mackinaw straw. The prices of men's straw hats are very much lower than last year. The hat that then brought $12 per dozen, a white mackinaw, will now bring only from $4 50 to $7, and the cheap Cantons that had such a sale last year, are made into farmers' hats at $2 a dozen, against $4 25@4 50 last year. Indian Panama is selling at 50 cents a dozen and at a profit.

The railroads in the Northwest are all building additional lines of track this summer. There will be at least 10,000 miles of road built in the country. Contracts are out already for 7000. So much railroad building means a general improvement. It takes a great deal of iron and a great deal of labor to build 10,000 miles of railroad, and the effect must be felt favorably everywhere.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 4437 ctls wheat, 327 bbls flour, 2385 ctls oats, 22 sks potatoes, 172 lbs hides, 19 pkgs butter, 187 cs eggs, 123 sheep, 1721 calves. Also 8010 ctls wheat, 150 bbls flour, 129,273 lbs wool, 2160 lbs hides from the eastern section.

WHEAT—The local market is very dull and rather weaker. Offerings bring out bids of $1 15@$1 20 as extremes for the two grades. Some shippers have in the past day or two refused to make an offer and no one is at all eager to buy. This situation is due to a general lack of speculative disposition and to a belief that prices will soon go lower. San Francisco advices furnish a like condition of trade. A lot of about 22,082 centals Walla Walla put into the bark Director last October and soon after taken out and stored on this side, was sold today as it lies in warehouse at $1 17½. The purchasers say conditions go with it that brings the price paid down to a level of $1 15 on the east side.

OATS—Very fair supplies now at hand for local needs, but firm advices and a generally strong situation make the market firm as last quoted.

EGGS—Large receipts last night and the market possesses less strength to-day. Some dealers anticipate lower prices.

POTATOES—Receipts continue light and the market firm, a good demand ruling for outside uses.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Governments bonds were dull and unchanged to-day. Stocks were dull and featureless. The only points worthy of note were breaks in Consolidated Gas and Louisville and Nashville. The former has been sold down by a single broker, generally believed for inside account, and the immediate reason given is the inability of the company to make any money at the rate recently fixed by law. There was considerable business in Oregon and Transcontinental, which declined 1 per cent., but recovered a fraction toward the close. The market opened heavy, with Delaware and Hudson and New Jersey Central each down ¾ and the rest of the list generally ¼ to ¾ off from last night's closing prices. Opening figures were generally at or near the highest prices reached, while the prices were close to the lowest of the day. Everything on the list is lower, Delaware and Hudson, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and St. Paul and Duluth common showing a loss of 1 per cent. each, and the remainder generally fractional amounts. Louisville and Nashville show a net loss of 1¾, and Consolidated Gas of 3⅜ per cent. The market closed dull and steady.

The Mail and Express says: Mining shares were extremely dull. Sales: Bulwer 2 05, Hale and Norcross 2 50, Savage 1 20, Silver King 7¼, Eureka Con. 1 40.
